FURA APPOINTS KEY EXECUTIVES IN MARKETING, SALES AND COLOMBIAN OPERATIONS

For Immediate Release: November 15, 2017

TORONTO, ONTARIO - Fura Gems Inc. (TSXV: FUR) is pleased to announce the appointment of Rupak Sen as Vice President – Marketing and Sales and Armando Diaz as Project Manager – Colombia.

Mr. Sen, Vice President – Marketing and Sales, will be based in Fura's administrative headquarters in Dubai. Mr. Sen will report directly to the President & CEO of the Company and will be responsible for global marketing, communications and sales of rough gemstones.

Prior to joining Fura, Mr. Sen was acting global Director of marketing and polished sales and marketing and sales director for Asia for Gemfields plc. During his 9-year stint with Gemfields, Mr. Sen was instrumental in implementing the 'mines and market' strategy in Asia. Mr. Sen was responsible for overall advertising, public relations, sponsorships, research, co-branding, co-marketing, education and training in his territory. Prior to working with Gemfields, Mr. Sen, with his strategic and operational skills, oversaw the launch and growth of various brands in Asia. Mr. Sen has worked for companies like De Beers (Diamond Promotion Service), Swatch Group and DTC sight holder and one of Rio Tinto's largest clients, D Navinchandra & Co. Mr. Sen has a Bachelors in Business Administration and Economics from India.

Mr. Diaz, Project Manager – Colombia, will be responsible for development of the Coscuez mine, Fura's flagship operating emerald mine in Colombia. Mr. Diaz will report directly to the Vice President - Operations of the Company and will be responsible for strategic planning, overall development of the mine, implementation of the sustainability framework and communication with the local community.

Mr. Diaz has over 30 years of experience in both underground and open cast mining operations. Prior to joining Fura, Mr. Diaz worked with Gemfields plc in Colombia as a project manager and was responsible for the evaluation and acquisition of new emerald mines in both the operating and exploration stages. Mr. Diaz has previously held several senior positions in the mining industry and has developed underground and open cast mines in South America, Asia and Africa. Mr. Diaz has previously worked as an Operations Manager for the underground mines in India for Hindustan Zinc Ltd, a subsidiary of Vedanta Resources plc, the Kansanshi open-pit mine for First Quantum, the underground operation for Mopani, a subsidiary of Glencore plc and various underground projects in South America consisting of copper, lead, zinc and gold commodities. Mr. Diaz graduated as a mining engineer from the National University of Engineering UNI, Peru and has a Masters in Business Administration from San Ignacio de Loyola University, Peru and a diploma in Project Management-PM from the University of Pennsylvania.

Dev Shetty, President & CEO of Fura, commented: "We are pleased to welcome Rupak Sen to the Fura team, who is undoubtedly one of the best and well-respected marketing executives in the world in the gemstone industry. Mr. Sen's appointment follows the appointment of Ashim Roy, one of the best coloured gemstone geologists in the world, as Fura's Vice President – Operations. Fura now has two experienced and knowledgeable executives heading its key segments: mine and market, respectively. We are also delighted to welcome Armando Diaz who will be responsible for developing the iconic Coscuez emerald mine. Armando's experience in South America, and more particularly Colombia, and underground mining operations, especially in a narrow vein environment, will be a great addition to the team. Having worked with Mr. Sen and Mr. Diaz in the past and seen their passion and commitment, I am confident that they will bring immense value to Fura's business. We will continue to further strengthen the team by bringing the best talent to the business."
